NUMBER 32

Weather and Beet Crop Report

Once again, following bright weather Wednesday and Thursday, the beets are rolling into the factory in wagons and trucks. Hauling from the centre of the fields is still pretty much of a team and wagon proposition, with light loads. The trucks however, can be loaded on the headlands and make out fine then in some fields. Saturday night this week will see in the neighborhood of two-thirds of beet crop into the factory sheds or silos on the farms, so that that portion of it will not have to be worried about. It will take about another week and a half of good weather to permit of finishing the digging and siloing of the crop, which will surpass in tonnage the crop of any year yet in Southern Alberta.

The rain storm Friday night of last week, was followed by more rain Monday, which turned to snow during Monday night, and snow fell steadily until the early hours of Wednesday morning, when the skies commenced to clear. Wednesday evening the wind was in the south and was quite cold, but during the night the breeze died down, and the weather Thursday morning was quite pleasant and has continued so since. No official check has been made on the precipitation of the storm but it probably totalled more than an inch.

N. G. Milligan of Lethbridge spent Monday afternoon in Raymond. He returned in the evening.

VOTE ENUMERATION STARTED MONDAY

Forty Thousand Men and Women Will Collect Names Of 6,000,000 Canadians

Forty thousand men and women started ringing door bells from Halifax to Vancouver Monday morning searching for the names of 6,000,000 Canadians entitled to vote at the next Federal election. Preparation of the permanent voters' list will cost at least $500,000 and the printing $300,000.

The enumerators will work from October 15-20, preparing their lists of possible voters. In November, until November 15, courts of revision will sit, hearing appeals from persons who were left off the list or against persons who did not qualify. On November 15, the list will be closed and the printing will start.

The list will remain closed with additions and subtractions impossible until courts of revision sit from May 13 until July 1.

YOUNG JEAN PARKER NOW IN "TWO ALONE" GROOMED FOR STARDOM

Needless to say, it is an achievement to have discovered a movie star. Although little 17-year-old Jean Parker has been featured by major studios, it took RKO-Radio officials to realize that Jean has everything that is essential to stardom. She has beauty and charm, a well modulated voice, and that instinctive knowledge of dramatic art which is possessed by every great actress.

The youthful star's initial role in the RKO Radio studio was the role of Beth in "The Women." Unwashed by the number of stellar celebrities appearing with her in the cast, Jean proceeded to give one of the most effective performances in the picture. Some critics in fact, have hailed her well-defined portrayal as ranking second only to that of Katharine Hepburn's "Jo." At the Capitol Thursday.

THE EDITOR SPEAKS HIS MIND—THE EXIT

Those of us who are used to reading "puffs" written often times in connection with weddings may find refreshment in the following "true" account of a recent wedding as one editor saw it. After giving the name of the bride and groom, this editor continues:

"The groom was a very popular young bum who hasn't done a lick of work since he was plucked in his junior year at college. He manages to dress well and to keep up a supply of pending money because his dad's a soft-hearted old fool who takes up his checks instead of letting him go to jail.

"The bride is a skinny fast little idiot who has been kissed by every boy in town since she was 12 years old. She paints like a Sioux Indian, smokes cigarettes and drinks whiskey when she is out joy riding in her father's car at night. She does not know how to keep house. The house was newly plastered for the wedding and the exterior newly painted, thus carrying out the decoration scheme appropriately, for the groom was plastered and the bride newly painted.

"The groom wore a rented dinner suit over athletic underwear of imitation silk. The pants were held by green suspenders. The number eight patent leather shoes matched his own state of tightness and harmonized nicely with the axle grease on his hair. In addition to his bag he carried a pocket knife, a bunch of keys, a du for the ring and his usual tool of imbecility.

"The young couple will make their home with the bride's parents, which means they will sponge on the old man until he dies, then she will take in washing.

P. S. by editor—This may be the last issue of my paper, but it always has been my ambition to write up one wedding and tell the truth. After this is done death can have no sting."—Exit change.

FREE COURSES IN AGRICULTURE FOR STUDENTS OVER 16 YEARS

In an advertisement appearing in this paper last week, it was incorrectly announced that free courses in Agriculture and Home Economics would be given at the Olds & Vermilion School of Agriculture to boys and girls under sixteen years of age. Obviously this should have read OVER sixteen years of age.

WHY NEWSPAPERS ARE LIKE WOMEN

Because they have forms. Because they are bold face type.

Because they always have the last word.

Because back numbers are not in demand.

Because they have a great deal of influence.

Because they are well worth looking over.

Because you can't believe everything they say.

Because they carry news wherever they go.

Because if they know anything they usually tell it.

Because they are never afraid to speak their minds.

Because they are much thinner than they used to be.

Because every man should have one of his own and not bother with his neighbor's.

Successful R. A. A. A. Annual Meeting

One of the best attended and most enthusiastic meetings of the local Athletic Association ever held here, was held Thursday night in the Town Hall, when 50 interested sports and fans were present and participated freely in the discussions and deliberations of the meeting.

M. R. Woolf, the President, called the meeting to order, and presented the President's report, which was followed by the Financial statement and report of the Secretary, and the following divisional directors also reported; Paul Dahl and C. E. Fawcett for the Opera House, Cliff Nalder for the Jacks, John O'Brien for the Idlers, and the other activities were included in the President's report. After a full and free discussion of the various points as they arose in these reports, they were accepted by the meeting.

S. B. Card was present, and reported the operations of the Skating Rink during the last winter, which however was operated by the Town and separate and apart from the Athletic Association. Officers elected were the same as last year; Honorary President—Dr. C. W. Leech. President—M. Rayo Woolf. Vice-Pres—J. R. Humphries. Sec.-Treas.—Reed G. Kirkham. The executive will appoint coaches, trainers, and directors for the various departments as the season advances. It was also left with the executive to meet the Opera House committee and try and arrange a program for the use of the building again for the coming winter. A vote of thanks was extended to last year's officers for their efficient work which saw the association to be in good condition with a cash balance on hand to start the year's work with, and a good feeling of optimism and enthusiasm existing amongst all parties interested. It is expected that the Jacks and Idlers will be operating again this season.

News Notes

Hyrum Fromm was lathing his house this week, and is having it plastered now. He will move in shortly.

T. Geo. Wood was in Hill Spring last week buying some lambs for winter feeding. About 600 head were purchased.

Snow which fell steadily all day Tuesday stopped during the night, and the skies were clearing Wednesday morning.

Ralph Bros have moved their garage from Broadway onto "Mutt's" lot, and are busy when weather permits putting a foundation under it.

The open season for Chicken and Grouse closed Monday. Hunters will now have to be content with Hungarian partridge, duck and geese.

Enumerators for Raymond and district are: Raymond, E. H. Wagstaff, South Raymond, James Grey, Welling, Ed. Gunn, and Stirling, Jas. P. Peterson.

Some people like to kick and find fault so well, that any place where they could not do this would certainly be hell for them. They won't be needed in heaven so they may either change their destination or their occupation.

The Capitol was crowded again Wednesday night for Bank Night, despite the wet sloppy roads. Kay Redd had the lucky number but he was not present, so there will be $20. for the lucky winner, next week and TWO SHOWS, the first one starting at 7:15.

Your home paper and three good magazines for $3.00 per year, should sound all right. Eh? Read the special offer on back page of this issue. Winter evenings need not be long, lonesome nor wasted, with an offer like this to act on.

Streets were covered with a nice thin slippery layer of mud about one or two inches deep and splashing freely as cars and vehicles went through it. One or two beet men tried to get leads to the factory but the leads were light and roads were almost impassable.

The summer may have been dry, but we can't say that about the fall. It is plenty wet so far, and really we could use another three weeks of dry weather to get the remainder of the beet harvest finished up.

King Alexander was buried Thursday in the royal memorial chamber at Tolopo, amongst his ancestors. Police took every precaution to prevent any disturbances as the funeral procession passed along the roads.

Wheat yields this year exceeded all expectations. B. F. Rolfs reports a yield of between 55 and 56 bushels of No. 1 wheat on a piece of last year's beet land, and Geo. Shields east of town reports a yield of 60 bushels on a 4 acre patch of last year's beet land. How is that for a dry year?

On 2 1/2 acres of land in one of Heber C. Christensen's fields John Percency raised 51 tons of beets, which is a little better than 20 tons to the acre. Figure out the returns on last year's price of $6.39 per ton, and see what a beautiful figure it makes in returns from so small a piece of land. We would like to hear of other yields which are exceeding the average.

George Rasmussen has traded his farm and buildings south of town for the Walscott farm west and a little south of the town. The deal was made last week. Mr. and Mrs. S.S. Rutt who have been on this place are undecided as to just where they will take up land, but Mr. Rutt says it will be some place in Sunny Southern Alberta.

The Dean brothers, heroes of the recent World Series, were cheered and booed by wild-eyed fans in Milwaukee on Monday, when they went to collect for their pitching 5 1/2 innings, and the fans thought they were trying to get their money without earning it. Police had to escort "Dizzy" and "Daffy" from the park.

The six new cars recently purchased by the Alberta Government represent an expenditure of public funds of $9,135, for the taxpayers to pay for. And why? These cabinet ministers are certainly making enough to purchase their own cars and could be paid mileage when in government business. Well, we hope one calls, we will try and get a free ride in it, and use a little government gas.

News Items From Here And There

W. H. Steed has been named enumerator for the Cardston district.

Don't forget to call in and see our samples of Xmas Cards. Prices lower than ever, and quality the highest. Personal cards are BETTER.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Jones of Cardston are spending a few days with friends and relatives here. "Bill" doesn't think much of his choice of a time for holidays.

E. H. Wagstaff is enumerator for Raymond and district for the Federal polling lists now being made up. If "Teddy" don't see you, you had better see him if you want a vote when next roll call comes.

O. H. Snow was confined to the house Saturday and part of Sunday with a very bad cold contracted while on his trip to Utah. Southern Alberta air seems to be best for a good many of us.

Workmen are busy now leveling and laying water and sewer pipes for the new Calgary Military Barracks, which will be occupied in 1935. The new barracks will cost $1,200,000 and work will commence about November 1st.

Los Angeles was visited Thursday by a combined storm featuring rain, snow, hail, thunder lightning, a tornado and a water spout. Six were dead, two missing and the property damage very heavy in the unusual display.

Four persons, including the mayor, were killed and 20 injured today when a hurricane struck the village of Astakos on the Aegean coast, wrecking nearly all the houses in the town.

Mrs. A. W. Lee on her return from a visit to Utah, on to California and through the intermediate states, stated that Raymond presented the most beautiful and prosperous picture of any district she had visited. The green beet fields, which were all a scene of great activity, contrasted vividly with the dry and parched appearance of Utah and Idaho especially.

Friday was initiation day at the High School and the new students presented some sorry sights as they were paraded up and down the streets by the gloating victims of former years. They were good sports however, and can probably comfort themselves with the thought that they may be able to put someone else over the course in future years. The High School holidayed Friday afternoon.

The speakers at the Ward Sunday evening were: Mr. H. S. Allen and O. H. Snow. Mrs. Snow who spoke at the recent semi-annual Conference which they attended, and Thos. Hicken who reported a visit to his old home town, and expressed his pleasure at getting back to Southern Alberta and home, where conditions were much better than they are at present in Utah. In President Allen's report he stated that the continued drought had forced many Utah farmers on relief, and that 21 per cent of the population were receiving aid from the government. The meeting was a very interesting one and the hall was well filled.

The case of Bruno Hauptmann is still progressing, and the chain of evidence which will likely charge him as the kidnapper and slayer of Charles Lindbergh, Jr. is tightening all the time. He is fighting extradition to New Jersey, where the major charge will be preferred against him.

1200 Hungarian miners came to the surface after spending 110 hours underground without food in protest of working 2 days a week for $2 a day and trying to live on it. They were promised more work at the same rate of wages. Some had to be carried out on stretchers, and others were nearly insane after their long fast. Anxious wives greeted their husbands at the mouth of the pit.

Speakers at the Raymond Second Ward Sacramento meeting last Sunday evening were: Miss Millie Romeril, and Elders C. B. Smith and J. Golden Snow. Musical numbers were furnished by Mesdames Terry, and Strong, and Misses Dorothy Strong and Laura McLean, and 2 stringed instrument numbers by Oliver McLean and sons and Leroy Anderson. Everyone present enjoyed the meeting.

A typhoon which swept over the island of Luzon in the Philippines, has left thousands homeless, and the fatalities are not known as yet. Preliminary estimates of damage ranged from $250,000 to 2,250,000. The worst damage was feared to be north of Manila, which was directly in the path of the storm. No warning was given of the approaching storm, and transportation and communication facilities were disrupted, and all business practically at a standstill. Prisoners, police and civilians were working side by side to clean up the wreckage and restore some semblance of order. Relief organizations were endeavoring to cope with the problem of feeding and housing the refugees.

THANK YOU FOLKS!

We certainly appreciate the good response we have received on our Special Subscription offer. It proves to us that people want to do the right thing, and will do whenever they can, and the opportunity is presented. Again we say thank you.

Due to numerous requests from farmers and beet growers who have been delayed in getting their work done, we are going to extend the offer a little while yet to give everyone a chance to get in, that desires to. We hope that all will take advantage of this and pay up. We have been carrying these accounts, refraining from pushing because of financial conditions. This year, with a good harvest, there should really be no hardship on anyone to clear up their subscription account, and it would help us a very great deal. Won't you give us a boost in this respect?

MUCH TO BE THANK-FUL FOR

It has been years since the district has had the returns in crops that this harvest season has shown. Wheat in nearly every corner of the district has exceeded the expectations of the growers, both in quality and yield; and this in spite of the fact that the ground was as dry as powder a time or two during the summer and cracks an inch wide and more appeared in the fields of grain. Even the most experienced and optimistic were fearful of a complete burn out, and many were expecting yields of 5 to 8 bushels per acre.

And yet, through the kindness of the Almighty, these crops were preserved, in the face of this drought, and average yields for Raymond and district were right around the 20 bushel mark, and nearly all of it No. 1. With the prices prevailing this fall, a good fair return per acre has been realized, and for the first time since the fall of 1930 farmers have been able to carry a check book, and make a good payment on nearly all of their outstanding accounts. To say that they appreciate this, putting it mildly, and the ones who have been carrying accounts are overjoyed.

Beets too, have been better than was expected, and on crops so far harvested yields of 17 and 18 tons are common. Of course beets are always planted where they can be irrigated, and naturally the yield can be blistered up, but even so, the tonnage of the sweet roots are exceeding expectations. While we are in the midst of a wet spell that makes beet harvesting anything but nice, still there is a good chance of good weather to complete the beet harvest.

All in all, with conditions as favorable as the are, we have much to give thanks about. Feed will be plentiful, and winter pasture and stubble fields, with the moisture we have had will be splendid feed when stock can forage, so we can face the winter without too much apprehension. In the midst of this we should remember those not so fortunate, and if we have anything to send to the dried out areas, there are relief agencies who would be glad to get it.

Mr. and Mrs. Athol Cooper had friends from Beaver visiting with them over the weekend.

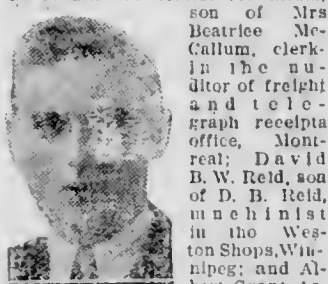

The man too bumptious in his modesty is apt to cut an even more comic and ridiculous figure than the man too wise in his own conceit.—Sir Henri Deterding.

WIN SCHOLARSHIPS

Three students in the Lethbridge, Alberta, have been awarded C. P. R. scholarships entitling them to tuition at McGill University and travel expenses. The scholarships were held at McGill University in the month of May and four years in chemical, civil, mechanical or electrical engineering or five years in architecture. That held at Lethbridge is for three years.

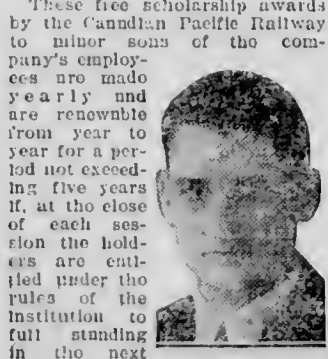

The winners are Jean Marie Laramee, bachelor of arts of St. Mary's College, and son of M. Laramee, foreman shipper, Stores Department Angus Shops, Montreal who is awarded the three year scholarship. Those going to McGill are Reside McCallum, son of Mrs. Beatrice McCallum, clerk in the auditor of freight and telegraph receipts office, Montreal; David B.W. Reid, son of D. B. Reid, machinist in the Weston Shops, Winnipeg; and Albert Grant Aspin, son of C. P. R. locomotive engineer working out of Lethbridge.

These free scholarship awards by the Canadian Pacific Railway to minor sons of the company's employees are made yearly and are renewable from year to year for a period not exceeding five years. If, at the close of each session the holders are entitled under the rules of the institution to full standing in the next higher year.

B. VISION IN SHOOTING

Little is some valuable advice from a shotgun expert, which will be welcomed both by novices and those who are anxious to improve their marksmanship. Russell W. Elliott, Manager of Elliott's Shooting Park at Kansas City, Missouri, writes: "There is probably no phase of clay target shooting instruction in which the novice receives so much information as that pertaining to the use of both eyes. The well meaning expert who shoots with both eyes open without knowing how or why will invariably tell the new-comer in the game that he should also do so, without first enquiring about the relative strength of the novice's eyes."

The theory of shooting with both eyes open is that it permits quicker vision of the target when it comes into view. Contrary to general belief, the left eye does not aid in the actual aiming of the shotgun after the target is seen. With a right-handed shooter, the right eye directs the gun, and it must be as strong or stronger than the left eye to prevent cross vision when shooting with both eyes open. A man whose left eye is the stronger should shoot from the left shoulder if he expects to make consistently good scores when shooting with both eyes open.

"It has not been my experience that both eyes being open is a material asset in single target shooting, as there is plenty of time for the one-eyed shooter to pick up the target and break it before it is out of range. However, when shooting doubles in Sheet or in the field, where a slow shooter is at a disadvantage, then the larger field of vision to pick up the first glimpse of the target gives the man who uses both eyes a material advantage."

L. G. Sheppard, of the Ontario Hunters' Game Protective Association, St. Catharines, Ont., sends a simple method by which the beginner can determine which of his eyes is the stronger:

"To find out which eye is the stronger," he writes, "take a finger ring and hold it at arm length, look through it with both eyes open at some object twenty feet away. Then close the left eye. If the right eye still sees the object through the ring which has not been moved the right eye is the stronger and may be trusted to align the gun and the shooter can keep both eyes open."

This is the 5th of a series of 12 articles on Sheet Shooting. Cut it out. When all the letters are clipped, you will have a complete write-up of this sportsman's sport. This is rapidly becoming the vogue across Canada.

MALADJUSTED

According to Herbert Spencer "Life is a continuous adjustment of internal relations to external conditions." It is obvious, then, that if we are to succeed in life, we must be adaptable, or, in other words, we must acquire a capacity to fit into life's situations whether at home, at school, or at work.

The new-born baby is dependent upon others for all his needs. He is endowed with the equipment which makes it possible for him to make adjustments, but he must learn how to use his natural capacities. Education is a growth-process which finally brings into being an adult who has become independent and who is capable of making a satisfactory adjustment to the world in which he has to live.

Just as we vary in degrees of physical strength and as our physical bodies differ one from the other, so do we differ in our intellectual capacity. What becomes of us depends not so much upon our intelligence, but rather upon how successful we are in the best use of our intelligence.

We all possess certain instincts. The instincts may be considered under three headings: the stimulus or situation which gives rise to certain feelings or emotions which, in turn, are expressed in outward action. All have experienced the emotion of fear called forth by some object or sudden noise, which emotion finds expression in a quickening of the heart, palor and, perhaps, flight. It is not desirable to suppress the instincts because they are the driving forces to human activities. What we should seek is as to how we may direct the expression of our emotions in a socially desirable manner. For example, we must learn to endure a temporary discomfort if by so doing we may gain a permanent satisfaction in the future.

The child entering school has a difficult time unless during his pre-school years he has learned to be one of a group, and to secure satisfaction in comradeship and in doing things well. The immature child who is still emotionally a baby will want to retain in school, the centre of the stage which he holds at home. He will want his mother because he has not become independent of her emotionally. He may be "smart", or may misbehave to gain attention if he is starved of affection at home. The worst type, because his condition is potentially the most serious, is the quiet, so-called "good" child, who is a solitary individual living within himself.

Parents can help their children to a healthy mental maturity by giving them understanding and leadership towards independence.

Questions concerning Health, addressed to the Canadian Medical Association, 184 College St., Toronto, will be answered personally by letter.

WEEKLY LETTER

PREPARING SEED FAIR EXHIBITS

Seed fairs will be attracting attention from farmers during the months ahead and some hints on preparing samples for exhibiting should be timely. Conditions in Southern Alberta, the past season, were quite favorable for the production of high quality and large numbers of exhibits of outstanding merit should be available for showing at seed fairs this coming winter.

A good bulk sample is the first essential in making up a winning exhibit, but the proper preparation is scarcely less important where competition is keen and prizes have to be awarded largely on general quality, appearance and condition of the sample. In fact the prizes are offered for skill in exhibiting rather than for the actual merit of the exhibit itself. This criticism can scarcely be considered valid, however, because the successful exhibitor must first of all be a successful grower and he uses his showmanship simply as a means of displaying his products to best advantage. Following are a few pointers on preparing grain, corn and potato exhibits offered by W. D. Hay, cerealist at this station.

In preparing seed for exhibition one should aim to produce a sample that is uniform in size; of good colour; high in weight per bushel; free from immature kernels, cracked or damaged kernels, and, of course, free from weed seeds or impurities of any kind. It is advisable to first do as much grading as possible with the fanning mill and finally to remove the remaining undesirable kernels by hand.

In wheat the abnormally large kernels are first removed and of the remainder those which will not pass through a No. 9 round screen are of the size required or show purposes. After grading is done to obtain them a slotted screen 7-61 should be used to eliminate cracked kernels. In the case of oats grading can best be done by passing them over a 13-64 screen to remove the short oats, and then over a round screen to grade them for plumpness. Green kernels that cannot be removed by fanning should be picked out by hand. By clipping the tips the weight per measured bushel can be greatly increased. This can be done by putting the oats in a cotton sack tied very loosely so that they may be shaken about freely in the sack. By rubbing them vigorously in the sack the tips of the kernels can be easily broken off and these can then be removed by passing them over the fanning mill. Care should be taken not to overdo this clipping and thereby injure the kernels.

Potatoes should be selected as nearly ten ounces in size as possible and uniformity of size and shape is essential. They should be well cleaned, but too often the mistake of over washing them is made. It is important that all the tubers be well matured, free from injury in harvesting and disease of any kind.

In preparing an exhibit of corn one must be familiar with what constitutes a typical ear of the variety being prepared. All ears should then be chosen so as to conform as closely as possible to that standard. The ears chosen should be well matured, properly dried and of a desirable size. It is often advisable to sacrifice size of ear slightly in order to obtain greater maturity.

A corn and seed fair open to all exhibitors south of township 19 will be held in Lethbridge on November 9th and 10th and the provincial seed fair will be held in Edmonton early in the new year. The Toronto Royal Show is November 21st to 29th, and the Chicago International the week following the Toronto Show. Many readers of this letter will be especially interested in the Lethbridge Fair and for further information should write to the Secretary A. E. Russell, at Lethbridge. Those interested in the Edmonton, Toronto and Chicago shows should write to the Field Crops Commissioner at Edmonton, Alberta.

THIS ONE'S ON YOU!

How would you like to live in a township with a population of 1,000, a payroll of 70, and a debt of $400,000? How would you like to hand a collector 25 cents out of every dollar you earn, with no prospect of any reduction because expenditure continues to exceed receipts? Sounds ridiculous, does it? Well don't laugh too heartily, for you have, in effect, pictured exactly the unenviable position of every taxpayer in this country today. Raising funds is a legitimate function of government, but the privilege should be used, not abused. For example, two cents a pound is equivalent to 40 per cent of the retail price of sugar. This oppressed tax, which, for political reasons has been reduced, has impelled the average family to cut their normal consumption of a basic food product to an absolute minimum. Apparently revenue is more important than humanity.—The Canadian Echo (Warton, Ont.)

PHOSPHATIC FERTILIZER FOR FIELD CROPS

(Experimental Farms Note)

The results of investigational work with fertilizers conducted by the Division of Chemistry in co-operation with the Branch Farms and Stations of the Experimental Farms System, have emphasized the importance of applications of phosphoric acid in the production of field crops. In this work the beneficial effect of phosphatic fertilizers has been particularly marked in the Maritime Provinces, Northern Ontario, the grain growing districts of the Prairie Provinces, and in the Columbia and Fraser River Valleys of British Columbia.

At Kentville, N.S. during the period 1931-33 an application of 75 pounds of phosphoric acid (furnished by super phosphate or basic slag) per acre applied for the oat crop of a three year rotation of oats, clover hay and timothy hay resulted in an increase of 18 per cent of grain, 39 per cent of clover hay and 28 per cent of timothy hay. At Kapuskasing, Ont., 40 pounds of phosphoric acid (furnished by 250 pounds of superphosphate) per acre applied for the O. P. V crop of a four year rotation gave an increased return above cost of fertilizer of $10.44 per acre. At Windermere, B. C., an application of 96 pounds of phosphoric acid (furnished by 600 pounds of 16 per cent super phosphate) for the potato crop gave an average increase in yield of 75 per cent over the five year period 1928 to 1932. At Agassiz, B. C., 500 pounds of 16 per cent superphosphate supplying 80 pounds of phosphoric acid per acre increased the mangel crop by 35 per cent during the four year period, 1930 to 33. In many districts of the prairie provinces an application of from 30 to 50 pounds of treble superphosphate applied for grain crops has given market increases in yield when soil moisture has not been the limiting factor of growth.

Assistance to Exhibitors

Assistance usually granted by the provincial department of Agriculture to seed grain exhibitors at the Royal Winter Fair, Toronto, and the Chicago International, will be forthcoming this winter, according to announcement made by department officials. In connection with exhibits of seed grain at the Royal Winter Fair, which is held during the latter part of November, the province will pay the entry fees and freight shipping costs to Toronto on approved exhibits in classes for registered or certified seed and on exhibits in the junior club classes. The return shipping costs will not be paid. The entry fees must first be paid by the shipper, and will be refunded. On seed grain exhibits to Chicago the transportation costs will be paid by the province both ways. To winners of one or more first prizes or championships an honorarium of $50 will be paid by the province, which will be increased to $100 in the case of wheat, oats or barley. The provision with respect to payment of transportation costs has to do only with freight shipments. Where exhibits have to be expressed, only half the cost will be paid. The usual assistance will also be given on livestock exhibits to the Royal Fair at Toronto and the exhibits this year are expected to be fully up to the standard of former years.
